

25mm PUMP TO TANK CONNECTOR KIT

Suited For 0.37 to 0.75kW JoJo Booster Pumps

- ✓ Allows for seamless connection from pump to tank
- ✓ All accessories included for easy installation

| WHAT'S IN THE BOX?                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Connection to pump water outlet                          | 4. Connection from tank to flexi-hose                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| A 25mm ball valve                                           | E 25mm polyprop male coupler                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| B 25/20mm reducer                                           | F 25mm ball valve                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2. Connection from pump to flexi-hose                       | G 40/25mm reducing nipple                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| C 25mm polyprop male coupler                                | ! Disclaimer: The contents may vary from the images displayed due to stock availability. While colours may differ, rest assured that the quality remains consistent. We never compromise on delivering top-tier products. |
| 3. Flexi-hose assembly                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| D 25mm hose (500mm in length) + 2x female polyprop couplers |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

| APPLICATION & ASSEMBLY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 Connection to pump water outlet                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 01 Screw ball valve assembly ( A &amp; B ) onto the pump's pressure control valve.                 |
| 2 Connection from pump to flexi-hose                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 02 Screw the 25mm male coupler ( C ) into your JoJo Booster Pump (0.37, 0.55, 0.6 or 0.75).        |
| 3 Flexi-hose assembly                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 03 Screw ball valve assembly ( E,F &amp; G ) into the existing tank outlet (at the bottom).        |
| 4 Connection from tank to flexi-hose                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 04 Attach the flexi-hose assembly ( D ) to the male couplers ( C &amp; E ).                 |
| SEAMLESSLY CONNECT THE UNIT TO A VARIETY OF JOJO WATER TANKS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 05 Connect your 20mm pipework to reducer ( B ). For a 25mm connection remove reducer ( B ). |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 06 Open ball valves ( A &amp; F ) to release the water supply. Prime the pump as per the manual.   |
| Note <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• This connector kit is suitable for use with our 0.37, 0.55, 0.6 and 0.75kW Booster Pumps</li><li>• All connections and fittings from pump to tank should not be less than 25mm</li><li>• It is advised to only make use of HDPE piping and high-pressure fittings</li></ul> | 07 Plug electrical cord into power supply and switch on to activate your pump.                            |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 08 To stop the pump, close ball valve ( A ) connected to the pressure control valve.               |